

Zambia Unshackled

Dry Season in Zambia

It's early in dry season in Zambia. The rains ended the end of April/early May. There will be no more rain now until the end of October or early November. A Country that is lush and green with beautiful flowering trees, shrubs, and vines, becomes a very dry and brittle landscape this time of year. By the end of dry season, some will be eating bark and dry grass to try and stay alive. The temperatures are wonderful for the Mzungu (us) now, 80s during the day, low 50s at night, but to the Zambian who sleeps on the ground or on a thin reed mat it is COLD. Since we have been back in the States on furlough and redirecting our ministry, it has struck us how the churches in America are starting to resemble the dry season of Zambia. We have found many churches to be dried up, with no food or moisture left behind for those that may be seeking. This is our fear each time we return—what is happening in our beloved Country? The coldness of the Zambian nights is reflected in the hearts here. We know this must be a concern to those of you who are still faithfully running the race and still faithfully sacrificing to make sure the Word is still spread to those so hungry for its filling and healing. Stand strong friends, He is faithful and the fruit is yours!

We have put more than 5700 miles on our car just in April and May taking the joy that is ours in Zambia to more churches here in the States. Thank the Lord we have found several new churches with a continued and steadfast vision for the lost and have added us to their missions plan. Our supporting churches have been a wellspring of healing balm and encouragement. You are all lifted up daily from our hearts to the Father's ears. We are so thankful for all of you! Praying for God's richest blessings on you all, and that He enlarges your territory!

Jack & Charlye Price

Your missionaries to Zambia

Charlye's Corner

My heart is so full! While we have still had times to be buffeted by Satan, God has been so good. When we leave this time we will be taking some of the most precious clothes back with us. The ladies of Faith Baptist Church in Kannapolis, NC, as well as the ladies of Bible Baptist Church in Pembroke Pines, FL., and Cornerstone Baptist Church in West Monroe, LA., have worked tirelessly to send handmade clothing for the Zambian children. I wish you could have seen the car packed with pillowcase dresses, T-shirt dresses, little boys pants and T's, underwear, and socks! I cannot wait to see their little faces and send pictures back for you all! A "thank you" is in no way sufficient for all you have done, but the blessings will be great from our Father.

At present we are awaiting the results of some tests that I am having done. Just as Mrs. Richards and I were ready to leave for Zambia I started having some medical issues. So far the results are good, but there is more to be done. So for now our plans are for Linda and I to leave in August for Zambia, and then Jack will come in early December. Keep us in your prayers! I am so homesick for Zambia, and cannot wait to be back with my ladies and children. Pray also for Mrs. Richards (Linda) as she returns with me. Her husband, (Brother Steve Richards) died in the field and is buried in Livingstone. She will be placing a permanent marker on his grave, so I know this will be a difficult time for her.

Contact Info

- > Stateside address:
Jack & Charlye Price
PO Box 236
Marion, TX 78124
- > Sending Church:
Marion Baptist Church
312 West Wetz Street
Marion, TX 78124
Pastor Rudy Elizondo
830-420-7084
- > Cell phones:
Jack: 336-250-9390
Charlye: 336-596-5777
- > Email:
jcinzambia@yahoo.com
- > Website:
www.zambiaunshackled.com
- > Sermon Audio:
Jack Price
An Established End Missions
- > Facebook:
JackCharlye Price
- > Twitter:
JackCharlye Price
- > Skype:
jack.charlye.4

In April we bid a sorrowful farewell to our dear friend, Pastor Mark Brown. Bro Mark was our original sending pastor, a trusted friend and advisor, and a member of our new board. His Christ-like example made him a man well loved. Please be in prayer for his wife Rhonda, as well as his daughters Melissa, Melody, Mindy, and the rest of his family and church Bible Baptist Church of Pembroke Pines, FL. Well done our Brother!

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Inside Story Headline

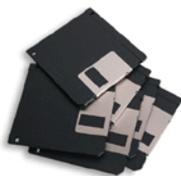

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

We're on the Web!

example.com

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Business Name

Your business tag line here.

Organization

Primary Business Address

Your Address Line 2

Your Address Line 3

Your Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555

Fax: 555-555-5555

E-mail: someone@example.com

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.